VALUE

is not in buildings here. It is in a nature and mainly in a story. One thousand people came to Pyramiden to get better life and richness. Instead of those they found only never ending winter and hard mining work.

PROPOSAL

is to create two sculptures for every person who used to live in here in times of the biggest fame. One heavy, robotic statue made from metal, other from black transparent glass. Together it supposed to give us two thousands of sculptures. First, half of them symbolizes hard live on this place and will be concentrated all together in Pyramiden. The second glass half, they are showing us an image of unfulfilled dreams and will be distracted in a world cities (as Oslo, Tallinn, Paris, Rome...).

CONNECTION

They will be paired together via internet. You can connect through the statue in your city by your phone and take control over paired one in Pyramiden. Your phone or laptop becomes a remote control and you can move with robot all around the place, explore a history or meet other players.

AND AT THE END

the value will stay in stories and fragments from the past, which will be confronted with an new technical life in here, in future it will brings new interests, possibilities, investors and companies. Later, when global warming causes that this place will be easier liveable, people will live here. New city will naturally born in here, most of old buildings will be demolished, others will be build. Robots becomes sculptures would not be necessary anymore. Now they will help to create future and much more later are becomimg pictures from the past. As monuments usually do.
