

KNOCK KNOCK

true architecture is the priority of human and how he forms the environment surround not the surround forms him. A house's primary reason is to provide us with shelter and comfort, it is more like a feeling. How this could be achieved?

PLAN

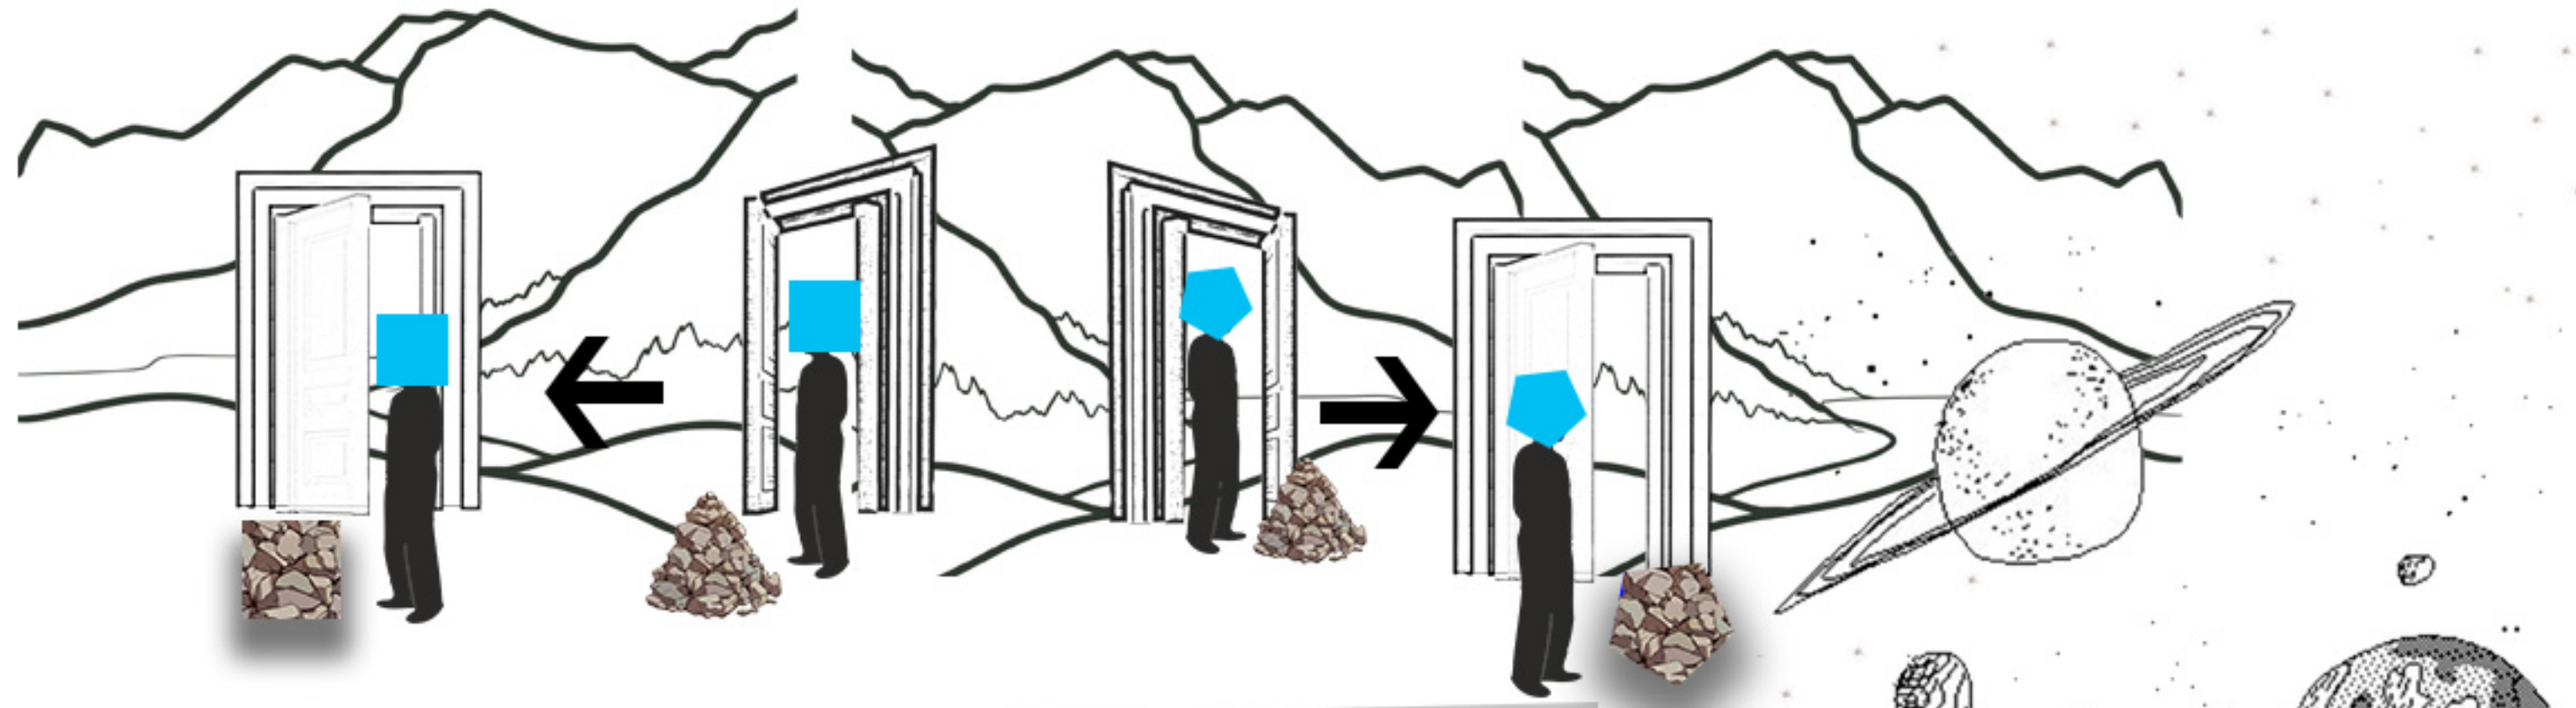

Section

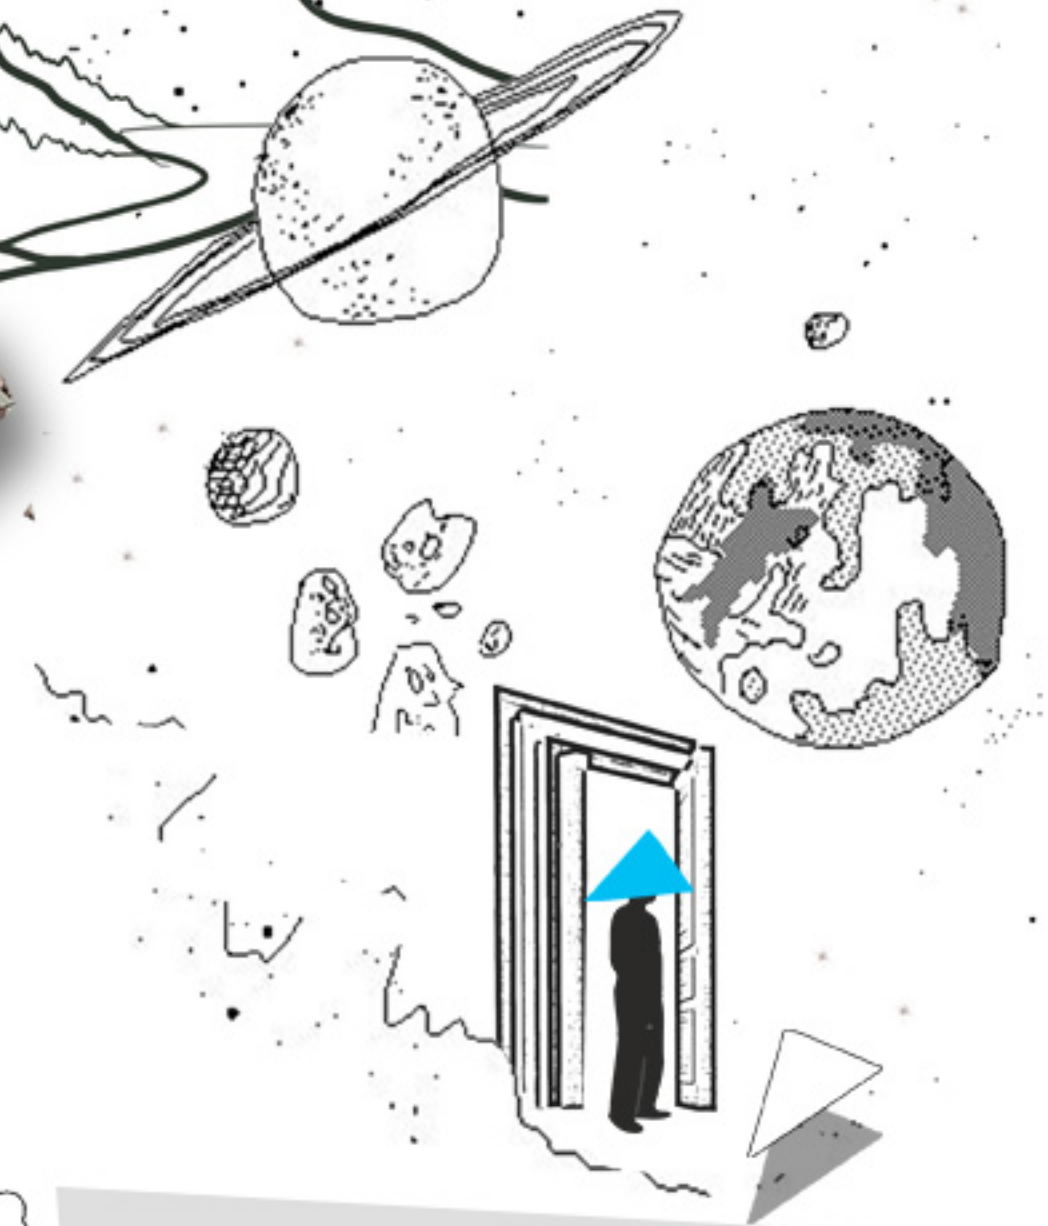

Doors are the symbol of safety, as if you are transferred from one space to another, deceiving people through illusion emotional feeling that can be messaged through 2D object.

No specific space is determined because eventually human will shape his own space according to needs and moves

Home is the place where human put his own touch and his impact appears. Some people find certain things beautiful, while others may regard it as simply atrocious.

So according to this multi-shaped material is found after entering the door, differs from one location to another, provides intimate feeling towards this place.
