

CAVE

WHEN YOU LIVE IN

Architecture is about imagine a form that can be functional and survive. When the Architecture does not see the context of the site and program. We replied by inviting the residents to imagine their own homes.

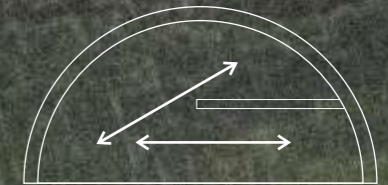

Long before science discovered architecture, ancient human had made the simplest form of architecture, that's call a Cave. Weather, climate and the attacks of wild animals is the reason they need a cave as a shelter. Inside the ancient human cave can imagine each of their spaces. How does a cave giving function? depending on the imagination of any of its occupants.
