

CANTEEN AND LIBRARY

Meals form the basis of much social interaction; reading is a means for personal understanding.

The structure is arranged to provide a direct relationship to the central courtyard. Folding screens and covered steps allow for activities to unfold in an informal space between indoors and outdoors. Further solitary reading space is provided in the first storey. A timber bracket and masonry construction emphasises the aesthetics of the material.

