

The Valley

The design is done purely keeping the function, users and the economic status of the village in mind.

The materials used are brick, bamboo and tiles for roof.

The major openings are towards the valley giving a splendid view,

Outdoor seating is also used due to the built area constraint

Big openings and perforations were used for reduction of material and for guiding the air circulation.

