

The form of campus refers to Chinese folk tale figure - dragon, simulating its curved, scale-covered body. The framework beams go across the space as its spine.

There are 4 zones allotted at the first floor: entrance and way upstairs, washbasin spaces, food acceptance and "eating zone" At the second floor we designed space for a library, open gallery and small restroom.

