

ROTATING ROOM

A Space For Communication

- A space for Communication is a simple yet complicated artifact.
  - For making a person communicate to a stranger in a physical space requires the art of making the space comfortable for them.
  - What can be a more comfortable space than the place we have our food?
  - Or else the place we have fun at?
- For example, a giant Ferris Wheel or Merry Go Round

STEPS OF USING THIS SPACE

- Enter the room
- Grab a seat placed on the rotating platform.
- Order the food.
- Wait for the platforms to rotate.
- After it gets stopped, one gets a partner with whom he/she has to share the table.
- Talk, Communicate, Learn
- Relax! There won't be any feeling of nausea.
- The platform rotates once in a while and at a speed too slow to cause motion sickness.
- Maybe, one would find a friend in a stranger. Just think about it!!
